Issue 29 Spring 2022

2022 marks 37th Year Helping Children with Cancer, Families & Communities

Psychological Resilience: the ability to mentally or emotionally cope with a crisis or to return to pre-crisis status quickly.

As a kid on the pro tennis tour, when I started helping children with cancer, I had my own examples of resilience. We all do. Resilience is further described as "the process of adapting well in the face of adversity, trauma, tragedy, threats, or significant sources of stress—such as family and relationship problems, serious health problems, or workplace, home and financial stressors." When you hear Paxton's brain cancer story and his Mom's "Words of Wisdom" in this "Your Example" issue you will add to your ability of living in the present and living full even with challenges. Maybe you will also feel called to help Paxton and his family or any of the cancer families Little Star Foundation helps across the country.

7 year old Paxton with an aggressive brain cancer called Medulloblastoma

Paxton's Mom, Amanda's, advice to families:
"Enjoy the now. Don't worry about the scans next week. What could happen. It's scary I get it. Worrying about the unknown is another cancer ... it's going to rob you of the time you know you have.. and that is right now. "

Paxton's Mom continues, "We noticed Paxton’s left eye became lazy. He had a referral for an ophthalmologist. Then he complained of his head hurting. Paxton was sent from Urgent care to the children’s hospital ER. Within an hour and a half, we were given devastating news. He had a mass in the brain. This mass was blocking the flowing fluid into his brain and he had a bad case of hydrocephalus and the pressure in his brain was extremely high. He needed emergency surgery. I signed the consent form for the anesthesiologist in the hallway as they wheeled him back for a drain.

Four days later they had relieved the pressure to be able to go in and remove the mass. It ended up being Medulloblastoma, an aggressive brain cancer. We noticed that the back of his head had some squishiness to it. He wasn’t absorbing the CSF (cerebral spinal fluid) he now needed a VP shunt. Once again he was taken back to surgery. His 3rd surgery in under 2 weeks. Due to the aggressive nature of this cancer... it had spread to the cerebellum. Paxton had 6 additional smaller tumors. Only these were inoperable. He had 30 treatments of Proton radiation of the brain and spine. Every time he needed to be sedated as it took hours to complete. Paxton was able to return home for 4 weeks before going back to start 7 rounds of chemo. The chemo treatments have been extremely rough on him. He started passing out due to fear and anxiety of having his port accessed. Paxton started going septic and ultimately grew a rare bacteria. Round 6 was delayed. He has needed a total of 14 blood transfusions and 14 plasma transfusions since the start of chemotherapy.

We are requesting financial help. I have bills that get rotated when they get paid late, so I can pay the other bills. I have changed the date of my car payment thinking that would ease things up a little, so I can get away with paying my mortgage closer to the 15th. Please can you help get those caught up?"

Together we have been helping children like Paxton for decades. St. Jude, a wonderful hospital, often contacts Little Star Foundation hoping we can help provide financial assistance to their patient families. Little Star Foundation has been helping their little patients like Paxton for decades too. Your support helps make that important difference possible.

“Having helped children in orphanages and hospitals I see resilience firsthand. Little Star and myself are grateful we can use our time, talents, resilience and abilities to ease the suffering in children with cancer and children suffering unimaginable tragedies. Growing up striving to reach goals I sacrificed a lot. My family in Eastern Europe and many others are seeing daily tragedies that can disrupt basic human life. It is special being part of Little Star Foundation and the community of support making a difference in the lives of children with cancer and children in need. Thank you to everyone who cares. We are all capable of resilience and together we are even better.” Adriana

Long Term Care is not easy to provide. It takes dedication, commitment, support and passion. Cory lost his leg to cancer. Every year we hear from Cory thanking us for the long term care programs we provided when he was a little boy with cancer and during his teen and adult years navigating through decades long medical challenges due to the amount of chemotherapy he received. Cory received Educational Assistance from Little Star Foundation to achieve his teaching degree. Cory and also just in Teara's messages are for you too - you are making these caring lifetime differences. Thank You!

"Andrea, I cannot thank you or Little Star Foundation enough for everything you have done for me in my life. You changed my life in many ways. You have helped me find my passion in life-teaching. It is because of you and your foundation that I am going into teaching. I feel like I am always sounding repetitive/redundant with my words, but I'll say it again... I think about you often and can't thank you enough for helping transform me into the person I am today. You are in my thoughts and prayers often."

"My name is Teara from Detroit. I visited your camp a few times as a kid in 1999-2001. I misplaced my tapes and was wondering if there is any way you had copies stored away from my time there? I really would love to show my husband and kids my amazing time spent at your camp for cancer patients. I've been in remission for 20 years now. Your camp has always been the best part of my childhood. You will always be a part of my family. I have attached a photo of me now." (Yes we have found copies of Teara's session tapes, have copied them and they are on the way to Teara.:)
